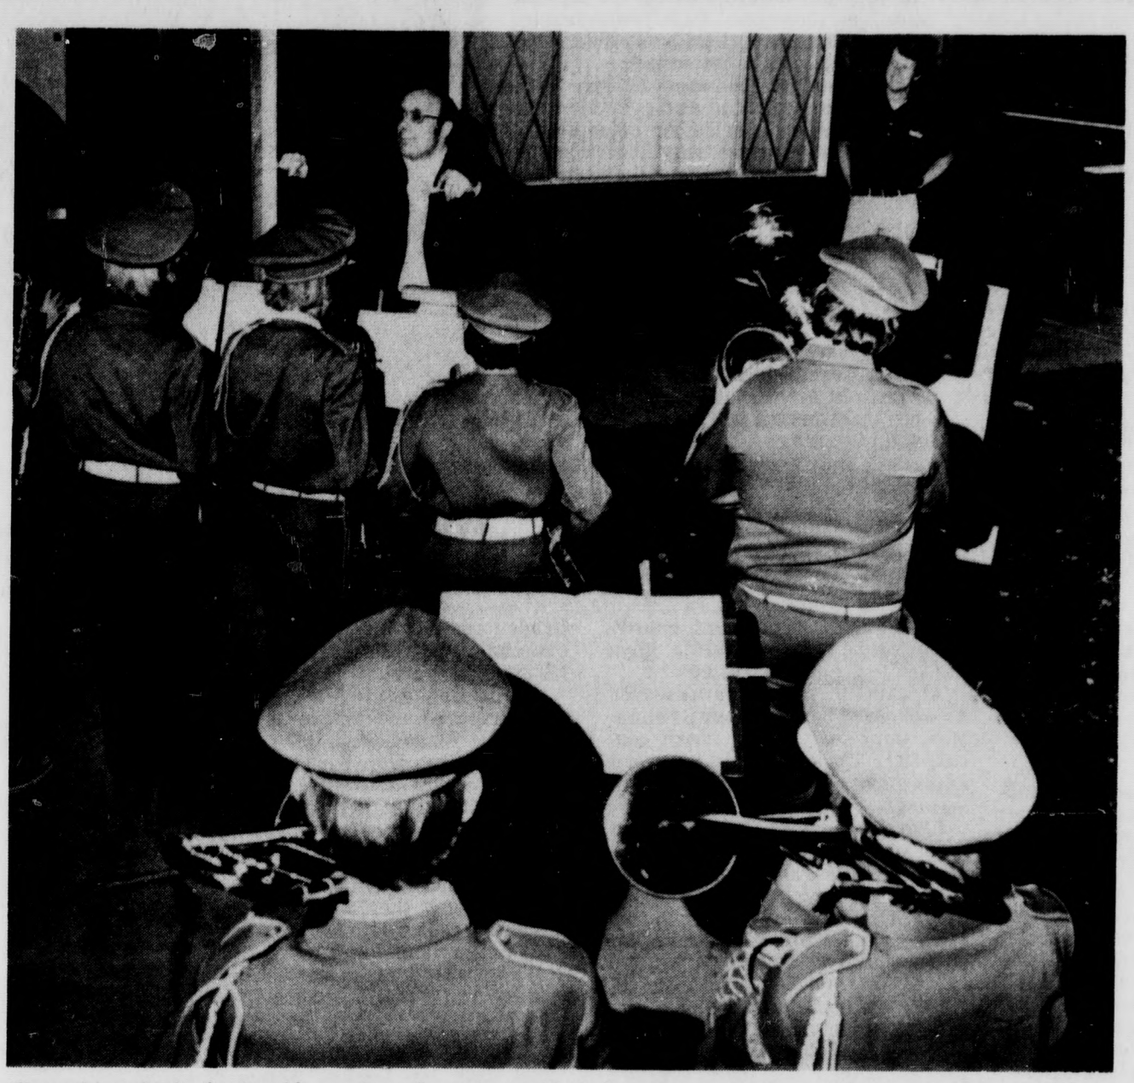
Sibling's sass sets serenade



Gary Hendricks (in back) receives front-lawn birthday serenade from Pleasanton School band, thanks to request from his sister in Alaska.

PLEASANTON — Gary Hendricks of Highland Oaks Drive is down one in the birthday one - upsmanship - sweepstakes with his sister!

Hendricks and his sister, Millie Jay Wickham of Palmer, Alaska, have tried to top each other in the way of surprise birtday greetings each year and, to be editorially honest, Millie has taken the lead by a big margin after last Tuesday night's coup.

Seems Mrs. Wickham wrote the Pleasanton School District asking if they would have about 15 Pleasanton School band members play a surprise concert for Hendricks on his birthday, in exchange for a $50 donation to the Pleasanton band fund.

By the time the letter got to Fred Spaeth, band director at Pleasanton, it was almost the Thanksgiving holidays. But Spaeth, intrigued with the idea, went ahead and contacted Mrs. Hendricks and arranged to bring 20 full-uniformed band members out Tuesday, Dec. 2 for a surprise birthday concert on the Hendricks' front lawn at 7909 Highlands Oaks Dr.

Mrs. Wickham in her letter requested that they play "Hail to the Chief," "Proud Mary" and "Happy Birthday."

Spaeth went one step further and had a cassette tape recording made of the event — to send to Mrs. Wickham in Alaska.

In her letter to the school she mentioned, "He and I have a 'war' about birthdays. We try to outdo each other." Last year, for his sister's birthday, the enterprising Hendricks had bumper stickers made up and sent to the far-flung reaches of America's 49th state.

Mrs. Wickham's response also proved to be appropriate in the fact that Hendricks' son, Bruce, formerly played for the Wells School band before moving on to Foothill High School.

But now that he's been one-upped, you can bet that Gary Hendricks will be mulling over some dandy ideas fo his sister's birthday next year. — by Al Fischer

Trustees vote Frederiksen a 'junior hi'

Murray School District trustees went against their Citizens' Advisory Committee recommendation last night, voting 4-1 to convert Frederiksen School to seventh - eighth grade use.

Pete Snyder cast the dissenting vote.

Dublin was the CAC's recommended choice for conversion.

After a review of plans for Dublin, Frederiksen and Murray, several of the 60 in the audience voiced their opinions, many stating opposition to conversion.

During his summary of conversion, director of auxiliary services Wally Moreskine said, "Whether we close a school next year, or two or three years from now will depend on evaluation of declining enrollment policy taken by the school board."

Prospect of closing a school has loomed as projections indicated continuing enrollment declines through 1980-81.

At present, Cronin and Fallon have the smallest enrollment. But Moreskine said Frederiksen and Nielsen would be under 60 per cent occupancy well before 1980-81.

He said Dublin would be at 42 per cent occupancy within three years.

The Citizens Advisory Committee had considered the problem of conversion versus status quo for the better part of five months.

They had reviewed plans for possible conversion of not only Dublin, but Frederiksen, Murray and Fallon.

At the close of their deliberations they had recommended to the board conversion of Dublin, now a K-8 school, to seventh - eighth grade use by September of 1977.

After receiving the recommendation, the board had reaffirmed a plan for a K-6 and seven - eight organizational makeup. Thus, the one item left for the board to decide was what school to convert.

Trustees have not leaned toward any particular school in past deliberations, though Moreskine's review tonight was a reflection of the CAC's final report.

Many of the questions and comments made last night concerned the problems that might derive from conversion of a school that now has an Early Childhood Education program or an Educationally Handicapped program.

Comments also revolved around bussing K-6 students to other schools, and the loss in educational values from sending students to new schools.

At the present time, there is only one true junior high school in the district, that being Wells Intermediate on Penn Drive in Dublin.

All other schools in the district have kindergarten through eighth grade classes.

With possible conversion of Dublin, K-6 students would be sent to neighboring schools and the school would take in junior high students from other presently K-8 schools.

No EIR required

PLEASANTON — A 70 acre annexation south of Stanley Boulevard and east of the A & R Service Center has been found to not require an Environmental Impact Report, according to City Manager Bill Edgar.

The annexation includes 37 acres of agricultural zoning and the entire 70 acres would be rezoned to the service commercial district.

The site has several major drawbacks to development, according to Edgar's negative declaration. The site has been quarried, leaving irregular terrain and steeply sloping cuts and portions of the site lie in the Arroyo del Valle creek bed. Much of the site could be subject to flooding and the area is not served by a sewer trunk line, requiring development with holding tanks.

If development occurs, the city would review the property in future subdivision and design reviews approvals, so there is no need for an EIR, said Edgar.

Edgar also declared negative declarations on a project to install drains in the downtown area on and near St. Mary Street, on the city's spray irrigation of 238 acres of City and County of San Francisco land, and on a zoning amendment application which would require two off - street parking spaces for each dwelling unit with the three or more bedrooms and one off - street space for every seven units on a site.

Home grown television Thursday

The first installment of a regular weekly television show originating in the valley will be seen at 8 p.m. Thursday on TeleVue Systems Cable Television Channel 10 in Pleasanton.

The program, called "The Cable Connection," is a valley - wide show, but temporarily will be seen only in Pleasanton because of continuing adjustments in the microwave relay system to Livermore and Dublin. After the necessary adjustments are made, those communities will receive the program at 8 p.m. Thursdays on Cable Channel 10, too.

Highlights of the first Cable Connection show include a look at Pleasanton's Fourth of July Bicentennial celebration, the 1976 Mardi Gras Ball, two valley residents from "Build the Earth," a swim race between Pleasanton city officials and KKIQ disc jockeys, and an interview with a professional clown.

The show was produced by Darla Stevens of Pleasanton and moderated by Ron McNicoll of Pleasanton and taped and broadcast in cooperation with TeleVue Systems.

No fair trial here

Chowchilla suspect seeks change

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Accused kidnaper Frederick Newhall Woods petitioned the California Supreme Court today in a move to get his trial transferred from Alameda County.

The trial of Woods and two other men accused of kidnaping a busload of Chowchilla schoolchildren had been moved to Alameda County on a change of venue from Madera County.

Woods' attorney, Herbert Yanowitz, asked the state high court to order Madera County Superior Court to grant a further hearing on the change of venue in order to evidence of prejudice in Alameda County.

The high court immediately transferred the matter to the First District Court of Appeal in San Francisco for consideration.

Yanowitz claimed Woods could not get a fair trial in Alameda County. He asked the high court to restrain the Alameda Country Superior Court from taking any further steps or holding any additional hearings against Woods and his two co-defendants while the motion is pending before the Court of Appeals.

Woods, James L. Schoenfeld, and his brother, Richard A. Schoenfeld, are charged with kidnaping 26 Chowchilla schoolchildren and their bus driver on July 15 and burying them alive in a Livermore quarry.

A court session is scheduled this afternoon in Alameda County to appoint a new attorney for James Schoenfeld.

Weekend shoppers glut mail

The post office today urged immediate mailing of domestic Christmas cards and parcels and encouraged customers to help expedite delivery by using zip codes.

Suggested deadline for card mailing is Friday.

Because earlier mailing deadlines have been adhered to by a large percentage of the public, the Postal Department said, packages and cards mailed in the next few days should reach their destination by Christmas.

Post Office windows in Pleasanton and Dublin will be open the next two Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

In Livermore, Saturday hours will be 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The valley's postmasters said the United Parcel Service strike in the east has resulted in some increase in the number of parcels mailed through the postal system, but long lines at the local post offices in the valley yesterday were more the result of weekend buying sprees.

"It was the busiest Monday we've ever had," Pleasanton - Dublin Postamaster Mark Foster told The Times. "Normally we have three people at the windows, today we've had five and there is a 15 minute wait at least."

The postal service had announced that packages mailed by last Friday would be delivered before Christmas and many people jamming the corridors yesterday hoped to still see Christmas delivery for their parcels.

Livermore Postmaster Dave Eldridge said that "everyone decided to mail on the same day." The postal system's pleas to mail early were heeded by some, but too many ignored the warnings and descended on the post office yesterday, said Eldridge.

Rank-and-file or top brass?

Council's policy under fire

PLEASANTON — The State Fire Marshal's office or a local citizens committee should review the city's fire department structure to see if there should be more fire fighters and fewer top brass, a resident told the city council last night.

Jim McDermott, a fire officer on the San Francisco force, accused the council of "parliamentary manuevering" since last January allegedly to prevent public criticism of the structure of the Department of Public Safety.

Back in January, the city council promised the public it would make input about any future changes in the fire department, but resisted any opportunity since then, McDermott said.

The first occasion was Oct. 26, when councilman Ken Mercer called for creation of a citizens' committee to look into additional fire and police staffing needs. The council dismissed his suggestion then, saying it must wait until after voters decided the fate of the LAVWMA pipeline.

The second occasion came last Monday when the council approved hiring an assistant fire chief instead of adding two fire fighters as recommended by the local fire fighters union, a position also favored by McDermott.

McDermott criticized the council for not opening the meeting to the public last week prior to the staffing decision. He quoted fire insurance companies which suggest national standards where fire fighters have preference over top brass when it comes to staffing undermanned departments.

McDermott asked where the staff got its advice, challenging the council to name the person who made the recommendation. Council had no response to McDermott, who gave his talk under the oral communications segment of the agenda.

The city has a serious problem with some of its fire department administrative personnel judging by testimony in the recent hearing of Capt. George Withers over his demotion appeal, said McDermott.

He referred to several sworn statements made by director of public safety Walt McCloud to the effect that he is not qualified to judge technical matters in the fire department.

VALLEY NEWS BRIEFS

LAVWMA on hot seat

The state Regional Quality Control Board (RWQCB) staff has laid the need for public hearings to consider a Valley sewer permit ban at the feet of local officials.

RWQCB Executive Officer Fred H. Dierker said that promises by the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA) to move ahead in combating the sewage disposal problem "have not materialized."

Dierker said the LAVWMA's board "lack of action is evidence of additional major delays which may occur in attempting to implement this project."

The RWQCB will meet Thursday at 9 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. to consider punitive action against the Valley. The public hearings will be held at Pleasanton City Council chambers, 30 West Angela Street in Pleasanton.

Billboard flap set

Eller Outdoor Advertising Co. will fight this week to extend the life of three prominent billboards in the valley.

The firm and landowners Martin F. Jones and Hilltop Investment Co. will argue their case before county zoning administrator Dick Flynn this Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the county public works building, 399 Elmhurst St., Hayward.

There are two billboards on the Jones' property at 7007 San Ramon Road, Dublin, and one on Hilltop Investment Co. land at 4460 First Street, Livermore.

The county has declared the roads "scenic routes," forcing owners to remove large, non-conforming signs by Feb. 8 of next year.

Trib sale stalled?

Minority stockholders of the Oakland Tribune filed suit Monday seeking to prevent majority stockholders from selling the newspaper. The suit said they feared sale to "a corporate raider."

The complaint was filed in Superior Court by Joseph W. Knowland, editor and publisher, and Emelyn K. Jewett, president of the Tribune Publishing Co. and other minority stockholders. They asked for an immediate restraining order blocking any sale pending a hearing on an injunction.

Stabler raids Bengals

Ken Stabler passed for four touchdowns to lead the Oakland Raiders past the Cincinnati Bengals 35-20 in last night's nationally televised game.

The raiders, putting together one of their finest offensive showings of the season, put a crimp in the Bengals shot at their division title, and killed Pittsburg Steelers' rumors the Black and Silver would "go easy" to keep the millworkers out of the playoffs.

The win gives the Raiders the home field advantage in the AFC playoffs, and runs their season record to 12-1.

State threatens fine, sewer ban

Inaction by Valley leaders to cure the sewage disposal problem caused the state to call a hearing this week to consider issuing a cease and desist order on future dumping, a summary report has stated.

According to a notice of public hearings mailed out Friday by the executive officer of the state Regional Water Quality Control Board (RWQCB), plans by the joint water board to assure financing for a sewage disposal pipeline "have not materialized."

Due to that inaction, the RWQCB decided to convene a hearing panel which could lead to cessation of sewer permit issuances.

Ron Hyde, a Valley Community Services District representative to the Livermore Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA), told RWQCB staff Nov. 16 that "LAVWMA agencies would be immediately taking actions to secure the local share financing without going back to the voters in March 1977 and to start design of the project," according to the notice.

At that meeting, the RWQCB chairman appointed a hearing panel to convene "only if there was significant deterioration in the proposed actions by LAVWMA agencies which would cause additional delays in implementing this project."

Executive officer Fred H. Dierker apparently felt that LAVWMA had made little progress toward solving the pipeline problem, however, and recommended that public hearings on a possible cease and desist order be convened.

"The actions indicated by Mr. Hyde have not materialized and I feel that this lack of action is evidence of additional major delays which may occur in attempting to implement this project," Dierker wrote.

A tentative cease and desist order including a prohibition on additional sewer permits will be under consideration of the RWQCB at Thursday's meeting. Dierker will make his recommendation to the board after all public testimony is taken.

The board will meet Thursday at Pleasanton City Council chambers, 30 West Angela Street. Violations of Livermore's discharge permit will be considered at 9 a.m.; VCSD's case will be heard at 2 p.m.

MSD scores 'as expected'

Murray School District trustees last night received a by-school breakdown of state test results, showing most grade two, three and six students of last year within the comparison or expectancy score band.

Grades two and three of 1975-76 were tested on reading and grade six on reading, written expression, spelling and mathematics.

The state percentile rank of the actual score indicates how the school's actual "per cent correct" score ranks among all other schools in California. The school which is at the median has a percentile rank of 50. For example, a percentile rank of 79 in reading would indicate that the reading score for that school is equal to or above those of 79 per cent of the schools in California.

Also included were summaries by-school of reading comprehension, word study skills, math concepts, computation and applications, language and social science.

Lydiksen School, host for last night's meeting, attained the following percentile rankings; Grade 2 reading, 92 (Comparison score band of 7884); Grade 3 reading-, 93 (Comparison score band of 81-96); Grade 6 reading, 90 (76-92); written expression, 88 (76-92); spelling, 94 (71-89); mathematics, 95 (72-89).

Frederiksen students of last year achieved the following state percentile rank of the actual score; Grade 2 reading, 49 (Comparison band of 47-76); Grade 3 reading, 39 (52-79); Grade 6 reading, 46 (43-68); written expression, 52 (43-69); spelling, 34 (38-68); mathematics, 46 (42-72).

Dublin School students of last year achieved the following state percentile ranks; Grade 2 reading, 45 (Comparison score band of 50-77); Grade 3 reading, 45 (50-78); Grade 6 reading, 55 (52-79); written expression, 40 (52-79); spelling, 61 (46-79); mathematics, 51 (51-79).

Nielsen School students of last year achieved the following state percentile ranks; Grade 2 reading, 99 (Comparison band of 72-93); Grade 3 reading, 99 (75-95); Grade 6 reading, 71 (84-96); written expression, 71 (83-96); spelling, 89 (77-93); mathematics, 81 (78-94).

Test data for Donlon, Murray, Cronin and Fallon will appear in Wednesday's edition.

Business owners must file 'Fictitious Name'

Thousands of California business owners stand to lose certain legal rights at the end of this year if they fail to comply with a state law enacted in 1971.

The law requires all persons who operate businesses under a fictitious name to publicly identify themselves by filing a Fictitious Name Statement with their county clerk and publishing the statement in a qualified newspaper of general circulation.

In addition, the law requires every business owner to refile a new statement with the county clerk at five year intervals. The final month for refiling of statements first filed in 1971 is December, 1976.

Business owners who do not keep their Fictitious Business Name Statement in effect may not maintain court actions upon or account of any contract made, or transaction had, in the fictitious business name.

Furthermore, the law establishes a rebuttable presumption in favor of the first person to file a fictitious business name statment that such person has the exclusive right to use as a trade name that fictitious business name, as well as any confusingly similar trade name, in the county in which the statement is filed. This benefit is lost if the fictitious business name statement is permitted to expire at the end of the five year period.

Publication of the Fictitious Name Statement may be in any newspaper adjudicated for publication within that county.

WHERE CHRISTMAS RESIDES

On foggy California evenings near Christmas, the family would sit around the woodburning stove in the kitchen, eating popcorn, and cracking walnuts with a piece of railroad track and a hammer, and Daddy would tell us stories of his childhood in Kentucky.

His family lived in a real log house which had been built into a large farm house. There was a large fireplace of stone, and handmade carpetting made of rags. It was not the custom to have a Christmas tree at home, but the family went to the church at Mt. Carmel on Christmas eve. There was a beautiful tree, ablaze with candles. And under the tree were the gifts. The gift for my father, a child of about five, was a pair of red leather boots with shiny aluminum soles. They made alot of noise when he walked and everyone knew where he was at all times.

When he wasn't storytelling, sometimes Daddy would have a handful of marbles and shake them up and ask me and my sister to guess: Odd or even? It was fun because my father was giving us his undivided attention.

But this attention was not unusual. That's why it seemed strange to me that some evenings my father was out in his workshop hammering and sawing, and I couldn't seem to find out what he was making. I felt left out that when I asked what he was making, he seemed not to hear me.

As Christmas got nearer, Mother acted strangely too, it seemed. Her sewing went on into the night. Sometimes I heard the treadle of the sewing machine going up and down after we were in our beds and pretending to be asleep. Whatever Mother sewed was always fine and beautiful and perfect in every way. I knew she had learned the art of sewing and embroidering linen napkins from her mother on quiet afternoons in Kansas as a child, while waiting for tornados, but I couldn't now imagine what it was she was working on so intently, and so privately.

Finally, Christmas morning arrived, though I didn't understand how time worked, why it was Christmas only on one certain day, and not some other, when I ached for Christmas to come. And when it did come, we were all still ourselves, somehow.

On that Christmas morning I walked into the living room in my long flannel nightgown, and there was the Christmas tree, all dreamy with tinsel and colored lights, and beneath the tree, nestled in the snow of a white bed sheet, was a little log cabin.

Half the roof lifted off, and I could look down inside. There was a fireplace with brass andirons, and on the wooden mantel were shiney brass candlesticks, fitted with blue birthday candles which flickered and shone warmly on the hand crochetted oval rug and the tiny wooden furniture.

There was glass in the windows, which I found could be opened and closed, and dotted swiss curtains hung from tiny rods above the windows. Up on the roof, Santa was halfway down the chimney with his pack of toys.

This wonderful creation of both my parents filled me with joy, and came to have great meaning for me through the succeeding years. When I saw it I thought of it as a house for Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. I think I remember Mrs. Santa sitting in a miniature rocking chair sewing the tiny quilts and coverlets tht furnished the little room.

But really, I knew it was my mother who had done all these special things, staying up late at night, doing all the tiny stitches, bringing something with her from her childhood in Kansas. And it was my father who built the log house like one he had lived in, in Kentucky, and had worked on it at night in his cold workshop.

It was together they designed and created with their hands and with their love, the little log house, where for me, Christmas will always reside.

Doll house can captivate both young and old

Your heart leaps with childish delight at the tiny grandfather clock that really works, the exquisite canopy bed in miniature, the dwarf ceramic bath fixtures, the Lilliputian stuffed sofa and matching chair.

It's the ultimate plaything for children or adults — a doll house, furnished by the craft section of the Women's Club of Dublin, to be given away in a drawing just before Christmas. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be donated to the Children's Emergency Council by the club.

The shell was constructed and donated by Robert Wood of Pleasanton whose daughter, Suzi Abernathy, is a club member. Two or three women of the craft group were assigned to furnish a room — the rugs were crocheted by hand, a fireplace and hutch in the kitchen were custom-made, some furniture was made from kits, other items were purchased.

The completed doll house was appraised at $850!

Today at Northern California Savings and Loan Association in Dublin, you may view the house and purchase tickets. The house will appear Dec. 10 at the First National Bank in Dublin, Dec. 12 at the tree-lighting ceremony at Shannon Community Center, Dec. 14 at Crocker National Bak in Dublin, and Dec. 17 at the Valley Bank where the drawing will take place.

The craft section of the Women's Club of Dublin accomplished the exquisite interior decoration in this doll house to surpass all doll houses. The house will be given away Dec. 17 in a benefit drawing.

Banker has seen Pleasanton grow

life style

By LUCY HOBGOOD-BROWN

Paul Kral came to Pleasanton when it was a small town of 3000 people, nestled in the middle of thriving dairy farms. He came from Nebraska, where the winters were rough and the Depression had left little opportunity for making enough money to live on.

Because he liked the "good caliber of people," the young Nebraskan stayed in the valley. Employed with the Bank of America, at first his job involved traveling from branch to branch, filling in for sick employees. Today, 40 years later, Paul Kral is still with the bank. He will retire this month with a wealth of memories on changes he has seen take place not only in the banking business but in the town.

An unassuming man, Mr. Kral's outlook on life seems to include a multi-faceted ability to look at an issue from every angle. In mentally comparing the bank's old method of hand posting books to its present computerized accounts, he says, "It's faster today and was inevitable ... but then our personal relationship with customers isn't the same anymore."

A Pleasanton resident who has known Mr. Kral for many years described him recently as a "silent servant of the community," — and she should know. Shirley Casterson has been working with Paul Kral and the Pleasanton Salvation Army Welfare Fund in an often unrecognized effort to raise funds for the town's needy.

As treasurer for the organization since — but even Mr. Kral can't remember — the volunteer banker has used his expertise in handling donations and the funds sometimes provided by United Crusade in supplying clothing, furniture and food for the needy. The Welfare Fund's entire organization is made up of "only four or five people," according to Mr. Kral, who is hopeful that "some new blood" will become involved after he retires.

With such a small volunteer staff it is difficult, he acknowledges, to raise enough money to meet all of Pleasanton's emergency needs. Donations from such service organizations as the Rotary Club brought in $1200 this year, which helped feed families with no means of support, several people on strike who couldn't get on welfare and naval families with husbands at sea along with many transients.

Those who have known Mr. Kral are doubtful that he will retire from everything he's involved in after Dec. 19, although Mr. Kral has visions of "doing alot of loafing and some traveling." He laughingly anticipates visits from his daughter and son and their families, along with enjoying leisure time with his wife Merle, who works part-time.

Insiders bet that he'll not just sit back and watch Pleasanton grow — a subject he also has ideas on. "Some light industry would be good," he says, "and it could help our tax situation." Retirement? Look out, Pleasanton!

The youngsters romped down the Christmas Tree lane.

Let's find a Christmas tree

Dozens of tiny tots from Livermore had an old fashioned Christmas adventure last week when they hunted for and cut down their own Yule tree.

They scampered among the needle laden sentries of the Sunol Christmas Tree Farm, delighting at the acres of hanging spots for colorful ornaments and lights.

It didn't take them long to zero in on the trees of their choice, each taking turns with a pole saw to fell the towering green monsters.

Sponsored by the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District, the tree hunt resulted in several Tiny Tot program locations in the city having their own decorated tree.

"This one seems tall enough," thinks 14-month-old Jeff Mapes, who shows a discerning eye. With his mother's reassurance, the little tyke decides to claim the tree as his.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any cure for a woman who suffers from acne at the ripe old age of 30? I have had this problem since age 12 and I have tried every cream and lotion on the market. I've tried facial saunas, facial masks, astringents, cleansing creams, etc.

The only thing that clears up my complexion is getting pregnant. When I become pregnant, my face immediately clears up and stays clear for about one year after the birth of my child.

Since I already have three children, and since it only seems a temporary cure, I would like to find another way to get rid of these pimples. One doctor gave me birth control pills, but I gained 15 pounds in three months and became extremely nervous. They didn't really seem to help much anyway. Not only do I hate the way I look, but my face gets so sore.

DEAR READER — Although most people with acne outgrow it by your age, it is one of the most common complaints people have. Teenage acne affects almost all males and 80 per cent of females from puberty to the middle 20s.

There is enough known about acne now to be able to at least minimize the problem in all but the most complex cases. Most of the scarring and disfiguration that typifies the inadequately treated or improperly treated case does not need to occur any more.

To give you a more complete discussion of treatment and what causes acne I am sending you The Health Letter number 8-2, Acne Can Be Treated. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 326, San Antonio, Texas 78292.

Acne is caused by the fatty secretions formed by the sebaceous glands. The fat is broken down by bacteria that live in the opening of the sebaceous glands. The fatty acids formed from this reaction are irritating to the tissues. That is what causes an inflamation, not an infection. The plug of fatty acids turn black at the surface either from skin pigment or the oxygen action on fat to cause "blackheads." If the fatty material is not changed it is a "whitehead."

The proper form of treatment is to induce skin peeling so the opening of the gland remains open and the material it forms is easily extruded. Proper skin washing helps, but it can be overdone. The one thing you want to avoid is injuring the skin.

One of your problems has been all those skin creams and so called cleansing agents. Most of these make the skin more oily and make the problem worse.

The second approach that may be used in combination with skin peeling agents is antibiotics taken by mouth. These decrease the bacteria that cause the breakdown of fat which causes inflamation.

Many of the face cleansers and agents often used actually make the problem worse. A case that cannot be managed by two or three gentle washings of the face each day should be under medical management. The best medicines are prescription items, such as vitamin A acid — not to be confused with vitamin A that you take by mouth. Estrogen does decrease the sebaceous gland activity and tends to eliminate acne. That is why you get along better during pregnancy.

Q. "WHY ARE SOME HIGHWAYS CALLED FREEWAYS?"

A highway can have many different names, and the name often tells the type of highway it is and the kind of traffic it is intended for.

Some are known as freeways, expressways and throughways. Still others are called parkways and turnpikes.

Freeways are divided highways which carry a free flow of fast traffic. They have no traffic lights or crossroads to jam up traffic.

Freeways with four or more traffic lanes are sometimes called superhighways or throughways.

Expressways are high-speed divided highways, but expressways may have controlled entrances and exits.

Parkways are highways resembling expressways that run through parks, or parklike areas. They are usually limited to passenger cars only.

Highways called "turnpikes" are toll roads upon which travelers must pay a fee, or toll, for using the highway.

Highways built over lakes and bays are called "causeways."

For Tuesday, Dec. 7, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Avoid picking at little faults within your own family today. Enjoy the good things in life you have.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be careful communicating today. You might write or say something that omits an important point. It could come back to haunt you moneywise.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A sharp hustler could sell you the Brooklyn Bridge today. If you encounter a fast-pitch artist, head in the other direction.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You might come across a dominant personality who'll try to do your thinking for you today. Don't listen. Her answers won't benefit you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An inquisitive person will try to pry into your affairs today. Take care. You tend to talk too much.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept. 22) You've had something on the back burner for some time. Don't talk too much. It may not turn out exactly as you think it will.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The big obstacles you can handle in stride today, but you tend to trip over the little things. Don't make mountains out of molehills.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Usually you're a fast study. Today, the light on your thinking cap is on dim. You'll trip on things that wouldn't ordinarily faze you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Being careless with your resources today could be traumatic. Only little things may be involved, but one could be valuable — like a diamond.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your thinking can be very mercurial today. Home-in on one beam and stick with it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone who has used you in the past again tries to take advantage of your good nature. Be on your guard.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Talkative people turn you off today. If you're at a social gathering, don't sit next to someone who you know is gabby.

It didn't require any great expertise for the late Sidney Silodor to see that three notrump would have been a better contract than five diamonds. Sidney also knew that North should have let him play three notrump, but there was no use crying over spilt milk. Sidney was in five diamonds and had to do his best to make it.

He called for dummy's jack of hearts. East produced the ace and immediately played the ace of clubs. Then East led a low spade.

Sidney was in dummy and had to tackle the trump suit. The normal correct play with the particular trump holding is to lead a low one and finesse the queen. This wins against singleton king, king-10, Kx or Kxx in the East hand.

This best play represents only a 33 per cent chance, but Sidney disdained it.

He led dummy's jack of diamonds! East covered. Sidney took his ace, returned to dummy with a second spade, led a second diamond, finessed successfully against East's 10 and wrapped up the contract.

When asked why he took this unusual play, Sidney replied; "East cashed his ace of clubs so quickly that I knew he thought he had a trump trick coming, so I decided to lay him for either his actual holding or king-ten x x."

Ask the Jacobys

A Canadian reader wants to know the significance of East's pass when the bidding has gone: one spade by South, double by West, redouble by North, pass by East.

A very few people play this pass to say "I think we can beat this one-spade contract." The great majority, including the Jacobys, play it as asking West to get out of his own troubles.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

History on your lapel

Election ballyhoo has been going on for 200 years, as Dr. Abe Feinberg's fifth and sixth graders at Almond School, Livermore, learned last week. A gleaming collection of some 70 campaign buttons from past elections was donated to the class by Russell Stickney, vice president of Homes Savings and Loan in Livermore (pictured showing the buttons to student Vince Morris.) The button collection, spotted by sharp - eyed Feinberg when he visited the bank last month, will be used along with two posters to increase interest in American history. (Times photo)

Ram gunners deal Mats 58-45 loss

Third quarters do weird things to Granada High's basketball team.

Outscored 21-8 in the third stanza in the loss to Northgate last Friday, the Mats were able to muster only two field goals in the third quarter yesterdat against Pleasant Hill as the undefeated Rams handed Granada their second consecutive loss, 56-45, in Livermore.

The Rams, now 3-0, scored nearly every field goal from the ten to 20 foot range, as Eddie Rettagliatta pumped in 22 points and Jim De Credico added 14 to pace the Pleasant Hill run-and-bomb attack.

Granada, playing in the afternoon before their student body, fell behind early and looked from the bottom up all afternoon.

Pleasant Hill mentor Art Poulin, whose team handled the Mats' fast break offense with amazing success, was surprised with the ease of the win.

"They're a little different from the Granada teams we've seen in the past," Poulin commented. "We thought they would be all over us."

Granada coach Pat Fracisco can take light in the fact that three football players have yet to hit their peaks for the Mats (Vance Rushing, Steve Robison and Steve Waldera), who have definitely lacked leadership in the backcourt their last two outings.

"We haven't really done anything do deserve print yet," Fracisco said.

Yesterday, Granada could never uncork their fast-break until late in the fourth quarter when reserve guards Scott Fullmer and Dan Lambert, who scored eight fourth quarter points, led the Mats to their best quarter of basketball on the afternoon.

After the Matadors jumped out to a brief 4-2 lead in the first quarter, the Rams ripped off a 10-2 spurt to take a 12-6 advantage with 2:00 to go in the quarter.

Joey Wujek, Granada's standout center, was held in check by the Rams until he sank a lay-in with 4:30 gone into the game. Wujek came afire in the second quarter, hitting for four field goals and three free throws to lead the Mats from a 16-10 first quarter deficit to tie the game at 16-16 on a short jumper with 6:10 to go in the half.

Pleasant Hill's De Credico hit one of his many 15-foot jumpers to put the Rams up 20-18, but Jeff Evert sank a long jumper for Granada to knot things up again.

Rettagliatta's patented 20-foot jumper at the buzzer gave Pleasant Hill a 32-25 halftime lead that stood up.

Pleasant Hill played slow - down basketball in the third quarter, but scored 12 points to the Mats' four to take a comfortable 44-29 lead into the final stanza.

Wujek scored both Granada buckets in the quarter, and led all scorers with 24 points.

The closest Granada came after the disastrous third was 50-40, when Lambert canned a field goal with 2:40 to go in the game.

Granada's next game is Friday evening in Fremont, as the Mats visit Mission San Jose.

Raiders explode to thwart Bengals

OAKLAND — The Oakland Raiders trying to lose? Preposterous.

Just listen to what head coach John Madden had to say after his club had ignored the menace of two-time playoff conqueror Pittsburgh, defeating the desperate Cincinatti Bengals 35-20 last night at the Coliseum.

"I said that idea was stupid a week ago, it was stupid during the week, it was stupid during the game, and I think it's stupid now," Madden said of rumors that his club would not mind a loss to Cincinatti that would have elminated the Steelers from the playoffs.

Aside from squashing the "dumping" rumors, it was a night of milestones for Oakland. Quarterback Ken Stabler insured his best passing season ever by completing 16 of 20 passes for 217 yards.

Meanwhile, Cliff Branch went over the 1,000 yard mark in receiving for the first time in his career while colleague Fred Biletnikoff achieved his tenth 40-reception season.

Stabler's big night came as no surprise to the San Ramon resident. "With the way our receivers complement each other, ypu know they'll be open when it's time to throw the ball," he said.

After an exchange of ounts and a tentative try to nove the ball overland, Bengal quarterback Ken Anderson went to the air.

His first try found tight end Bob Trumpy splitting the middle of the Oakland secondary, but Trumpy failed to hold the ball.

However, John McDaniel grabbed his next try to the same area for 12 and five yards from Bobby Clark and another ten around left end by two - time Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin gave the Bengals a first down on Oakland's 40.

McDaniel took off for the left flag and, with the Raider defense overcommitted to the other side, beat veteran Willie Brown by one step for the touchdown.

Chris Bahr missed the PAT, however, enabling Oakland to take the lead on its next possession.

Passing once to Dave Casper and once to Fred Biletnikoff on either side of handoffs to three different backs, Stabler brought the Raiders to Cincy's 36.

A ten-yard holding penalty on tackle John Vella hampered the Oakland drive, but on the next play, Clarence Davis slipped out of the grasp of Bengal linebacker Bo Harris for a gain of seventeen yards.

A play later, Casper curled toward the goal posts with Cincinnati defenders so far away, they'd have needed to write him a letter to say 'hi' and grabbed a 24-yard TD pass from Stabler.

The Raider defense held the Bengals to six yards and a wobbly Pat McInally punt after the kickoff and Neal Colzie's 18-yard return to give Oakland the ball at midfield.

Mark Van Eeghen got the call three times in a row for 16 yards and on second and five, Lamar Parrish was flagged for interfering with Biletnikoff at the three.

Time for a meeting of the Dave Casper Pen Pal Club. With every last Bengal following Oakland's misdirected blocking, Stabler did a dainty three-step rollout to the left, before lobbing to the lonesome Casper.

"With the type of defense that they were in, they were vulnerable to that kind of play," said Casper. "Their zone was only two men deep."

Although Cincinnati's second period - opening TD drive went 81 yards in six plays on paper, McDaniel tallied 91 receiving by himself.

Facing a second and 13, Anderson hit the three-year veteran over the middle, and McDaniel spun out of the clutches of Raider linebacker Monte Johnson for a 46-yard pickup.

John Matuszak got through to sack Anderson and Ken's screen to Isaac Curtis was incomplete, leaving Cincy with a third and 18.

Anderson went with the mirror image of the earlier scoring play and McDaniel hauled in a 45-yarder at the one despite interference from George Atkinson.

With seven minutes to go in the half, Pete Banaszak, the legendary short - yardage machine, scored by half-a-foot on a fourth and one that inspired chants — headed for a change — of "go-go-go" from the sellout crowd of 52,430.

The score was set up when Anderson drilled a pass into the chest of the Raiders' Johnson at the Bengal 44. Banaszak picked up a pair of first downs on the drive and Casper grabbed another W-I-D-E open pass for 13 key yards

The Raiders received the second half kickoff and immediately marched 80 yards, in eight plays, for a touchdown.

Van Eeghen packed five times for 24 yards on the drive, which ended in spectacular fashion as Branch out-ran and out-leaped cor-

Wilkes does heavy thinking

Warriors host rebuilt Cavaliers

OAKLAND — The Golden State Warriors finally got over the .500 mark for the season Saturday night, but they didn't do it the easy way, frittering away an 18-point lead before win on some offensive and defensive heroics by Clifford Ray in the final nine seconds.

And the path won't get any easier tonight when the Warriors host the Cleveland Cavaliers at the Coliseum Arena at 7:30 p.m. The Cavs have lost two straight to allow Houston to tie them for the Central Division lead.

"They've been building for the last few years and started to put it together the year we won the championship ('74-'75)," said Warrior center George Johnson of the Cavaliers, who made the Eastern Conference play-offs for the first time last year.

Cleveland is led by 6-4 guard Bingo Smith, the last of the original Cavaliers, a club that became the comic relief of the National Basketball Association, losing its first 18 games of the 1969-70 expansion year.

But coach Al Attles would still like to have his players learn from Saturday's crowd - pleasing 116-114 narrow - escape from Los Angeles.

"We had a big lead and I'm not happy about giving it up," Attles said. "We have to find out why we're losing these big leads."

Specifically, he said, "We were allowing them to take the outside shot and they were going in.

"Over the long haul, you can say 'take the outside shot' and we should win, but if the shot falls ... you're in trouble," he concluded.

Far off on the horizon, the Warriors could encounter more trouble at forward, a position that has given Attles the most fits this season.

With CBS dangling a lucrative sports announcing position in his face, veteran Rick Barry is hardly certain to hang around for more than another season or two. More immediately, veteran Dwight Davis just came of the injured list and has missed Golden States first 21 games.

Rookie Sonny Parker hasn't played with enough consistency yet and now, on the heels of a season-high 31 point effort against the Lakers, 24-year old Jamaal Wilkes dropped a hint that he may not be planning on a lengthy basketball career.

"The Dave Cowens thing (the Boston Celtics' hustling forward has taken a sabbatical to his parent's Kentucky Christmas tree farm and is not likely to return this season. He says he's lost enthusiasm for the game) interests me," Wilkes admitted after leading the Warriors' with 10 rebounds Saturday night.

"I'm going through some things and thinking about my lifestyle," he explained. "I'm trying to decide what kind of personal life I want and what I should do to have the way I would like."

Wilkes says he hasn't spoken with Cowens about his abrupt departure, but added, "It might help me to make some decisions. He seems to already have made up his mind and he might be able to give me some insights into his decision."

The bearded three-year veteran isn't about to catch the next PSA back to his native Santa Barbara, however.

"Right now I don't want to take up time thinking about it," he said. "I want to go out and help the Warriors this season and worry about the future later."

Slumping during the early season, Wilkes moved without the ball superbly Saturday night and got open everywhere — from the deep corners to right under the hoop — and seldom missed, hitting 59 per cent of his shots.

"Things have been going better for me lately, because I've been more relaxed," Wilkes explained. "I have worked on my release, by my shots are falling because I'm more relaxed."

As for Golden States slow start, Wilkes said, "We had a few tough games early and it would have been easy to fold up and choke. But we grouped together as a team and fought back. "Now we have it going."

49ers aim to finish above .500

San Francisco 49ers conclude their 1976 football season Sunday and that's good news for anyone connected with the team.

The last six weeks have been a nightmare, ever since the Niners lost that 23-20 game on Halloween in St. Louis' Busch Stadium in overtime to the Cardinals.

Before St. Louis, Monte Clark's men were 6-1. Entering the finale this weekend at New Orleans, they are 7-6.

In their latest outing at San Diego, the 49ers went 58:41 before getting on the scoreboard. The Chargers were almost as inept, failing to score until only 5:02 remained.

As it turned out the two teams were forced into overtime with the Chargers marching 93 yards behind Dan Fouts' direction to record a 13-7 triumph.

A man Clark recommended to the Chargers, Mercury Morris, did the Niners in with a 13 - yard TD gallop.

Once again it was a day of frustration for quarterback Jim Plunkett and field goal kicker Steve Mike - Mayer of the 49ers.

To say that their jobs are in jeopardy is understating the issue. Plunkett had nothing to celebrate on his 29th birthday. He was sacked twice, intercepted once and threw for only 55 yards, completing 7 of 13. Enemy defenses don't respect his passing.

It was Scott Bull, the rookie from Arkansas who called the signals in the 49er win against Minnesota last Monday, that fired the tying touchdown pass to another rookie, Paul Hofer.

Bull shook loose of one tackler and got the ball to Hofer at the 8 and Paul proceeded to slip away from a pair of tacklers.

Scott noted, "On the touchdown pass, I got out from under the blitz and Paul made a great play. I just wish we could have got the ball back once more."

Bull used a bit of diplomacy when quizzed as to his status as a possible starting 49er quarterback. "I don't want to put any pressure on Coach Clark. I'm just happy to be here. At training camp last summer I had my doubts."

Scott grinned and said of his win over Minnesota, "Yeah, they wanted to make me mayor of Little Rock after that one."

Mike - Mayer, who is certain to be playing for another team next year or in another class of football, missed two field goals and had one blocked Sunday.

Clark, who has steadfastly defended Steve's sub - par efforts in the past, said Sunday, "We blew three scoring opportunities. Our offense was inconsistent.

"At times we moved well running. We got into position three times to score with the last field goal try hitting the cross bar. If we make one of those, we win."

Again outstanding in defeat was 49er running back Delvin Williams, who established a new single - season rushing record Sunday. The third - year pro from Kansas rambled for 104 yards on 26 carries to bring his season total to 1,116.

Joe (The Jet) Perry held the former mark of 1,049 which was set in 1954.

Williams said, "It's nice to have the record but it doesn't mean that much because we couldn't win today." Del even completed the one pass he threw, an 18 - yarder to Jim Lash that helped set up the SF touchdown.

Delvin bought dinner for his offensive line and fullback Wilbur Jackson Saturday night in San Diego. It was his way of thanking them for helping to a 1,000 plus rushing season.

Fouts, who didn't get into the game for San Diego until the third period because Tommy Prothro wanted to see what Clint Longley could do at quarterback, was happy to beat San Francisco, a team he once served as water boy for.

Cal girls drop 36-19 decision to Las Lomas

Bob Benatar is finding the transition from coaching baseball to girls basketball nicer. He's also wondering these days what it takes to win.

"We have some good players, it's just a matter of putting it together," said Benatar after Cal dropped a 36-19 pre-season game to Las Lomas yesterday.

Cal, which is predominately freshmen and sophomores, will get another chance today when they host St. Elizabeth's at 5:30 p.m.

And Benatar anticipates a tough match. "It should be a pretty close ball game. I'm hoping we play a little better than we did today. We were ahead of them at the half last year but lost."

Meanwhile, Las Lomas, up by one at the half, went on to outscore the Grizzlies 18-6 for a decisive 32-17 advantage through three quarters.

In this period, Cal went to an inbounds press which consequently failed. The Knights, which broke the press, tallied primarily from underneath.

"We didn't do too well with the press, but we played pretty well defensively, continued Benatar. "Right now, we're up against some tough teams from the FAL (Foothill Athletic League) and CAL (Catholic Athletic League)."

P.J. Moore, whom Benatar says is capable of scoring more than 20 points a game, led the Grizzlies in scoring with 11 points. Moore also had 14 rebounds, while teammate Jody Catala had eight.

Cal was 7 of 40 in field goals made and attempted.

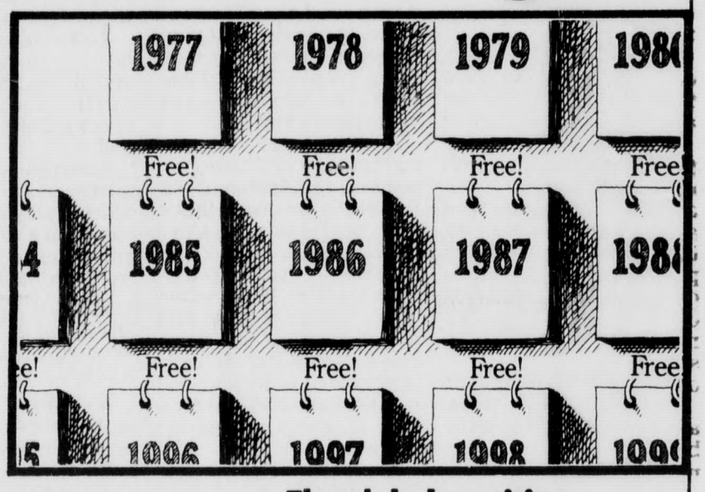
What a World: Free IRA! Free Keogh!



Don't pay expensive yearly trustee fees. At World, your retirement account will always be free!

IRA and Keogh plans are two great ways to set aside tax-sheltered funds for retirement.

There's only one problem. Most institutions charge you a trustee fee each and every year. And those that do advertise "free" retirement accounts often mean that it's free just for the first year only.

That doesn't seem fair. These are the same institutions that always ask you to save with them. But when you go to save for your retirement—perhaps the most important savings of all—they charge you for it!

It's different in our World. There are no yearly administrative costs, commissions, or trustee fees to chip away at your savings. We set up and maintain your account absolutely free. And we guarantee never to charge you fees or commissions for the life of your account!

Already have a retirement account somewhere else?

No problem. Let us tell you about the "rollover" provisions of the law. Rollover allows you to transfer your present IRA/Keogh account to World. We'll handle all the paperwork.

Rollover also applies if your company has a retirement plan, and you intend leaving your employer within the next few months. You can avoid paying federal taxes on the benefits you'll receive from that plan by rolling them over into a World IRA. (It's even possible to do this on plans terminated as far back as July 4, 1974!) Come in and ask us about all the advantages of rollover.

There's help waiting at every World branch.

World Savings has an ongoing program of employee training that covers every aspect of IRA and Keogh plans. Whatever your question, you can count on getting an up-to-the-minute answer at the World Savings office nearest you.

Did you know, for example, that your IRA savings can earn World's highest rate—8.06%*/7.75% annually—even if you don't have the normal minimum balance requirement in your account? Or that even if your IRA savings are in long-term deposits, we can waive the customary "early withdrawl penalties" when you take the money out at age 59½? Or that your IRA/Keogh contributions are now deductible from your state income taxes, as well as your federal return.

These are facts you should know. Facts we do know at World!

IRA and Keogh plans have been called "the biggest break for taxpayers in history." Come in to World now and let us show you how simple it is to start a plan, and how much that plan can mean during your retirement years. You'll see. Your future looks a lot rosier in our World.

*Effective annual yield when interest is held in the account and compounded continuously. Minimum term 6 years.

Sales tax for BART feeders

Alameda County Bureau

BERKELEY — If the Bay Area Rapid Transit District cannot justify its exclusive use of the extra half-cent sales tax paid in the three BART counties, the funds will go to AC Transit and the San Francisco Muni to offset the cost of feeder bus service.

That's the recommendation the Metropolitan Transportation Committee's special finance steering committee will present to the full board next week.

Other recommendations include:

- The half-cent sales tax made permanent;
- $1 tolls on the Bay, Dumbarton and San Mateo bridges;
- All mass transit fares raised to cover 35 per cent of operating costs;
- All transit systems cut operating costs 5 per cent;
- And gasoline tax or some tidelands oil tax funds applied to mass transit; or a special surcharge on auto licenses.

If the committee's recommendations are accepted by the full MTC board and the state Legislature, the regional transit agency will make a yearly review of BART's use of the half-cent sales tax revenue.

If the committee feels all the funds are not needed, they will go to help AC Transit and the SF Muni for their part in feeder bus operations in the city and hinterlands of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties.

At the same time, MTC wants to give all state Transportation Development Act (TDA) funds and any federal Urban Mass Transit Administration (UMTA) monies to AC and the Muni. BART, they ruled, should only get those funds if they are the only eligible agency.

Permanent use of gas tax revenue to support mass transit will require a state constitutional amendment. Failing that, the regional transportation planning agency would have tideland oil monies diverted to mass transit, or have the state impose a surcharge on automobile licenses.

The proposals will be aired before the full board at MTC's Dec. 15 meeting.

Price of horseback rides up

Horseback riding will be more expensive in some East Bay Regional Parks before long.

The EBRPD board of directors from Alameda and Contra Costa Counties will meet at 2 p.m. in BART headquarters, 800 Madison St., Oakland, to discuss horse rental rates and other EBRPD matters. Affected by the new rates will be stables at Chabot Equestrian Center and Piedmont Stables.

Other items on the agenda include authorization to execute an agreement to use district facilities between EBRPD and Contra Costa County.

Taste Promise Kept.

'Enriched Flavor'™ breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

For many years low tar cigarettes have promised taste.

But your own taste told you the truth: low tar meant low taste.

Until MERIT.

MERIT packs 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco fortified with key flavor-rich ingredients of cigarette smoke proven to deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: Even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

Repeat: delivered as much —or more—taste.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method
